SUNDAY, AUGUST 1, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Ex-President Andrew Johnson died of paralysis yesterday morning at the residence of his daughter in Greenville, Tennessee.

A large vote was polled at the Democratic primaries yesterday.

It appears that Jay Gould is trying to secure a controlling interest in the stock of the Western Union Telegraph Company, for the purpose of absorbing it in the Atlantic and Pacific Company.

The Great Western Consolidated Mining Company, of Panama, have incorporated.

The Australian Parliament have granted a subsidy of $500,000 per year for eight years to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for monthly mail service.

Hon. T. G. Phelps addressed a large concourse of people at Stockton yesterday with a two hours speech, in which he denounced the present high salaries paid to office-holders and pledged himself to reduce taxation.

Judge Barrett refuses to reduce Tweed's bail from $4,000.

The Johnson obsequies will take place at Greenville, Tennessee, next Tuesday.

H. Hyber's last-ill works at Hunter's Point were burned yesterday.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt at Milledgeville, Georgia, on July 28th.

YESTERDAY we published a card from Colonel B. L. PEEL announcing his withdrawal from the Independent party and expressing his intention to act in the future with the Democracy.

Colonel PEEL has worked and voted with the Independents of this county for some time but he cannot longer remain in their ranks. His disaffection was known prior to the holding of BIERLEY'S convention and we have it from reliable sources that an effort was made to retain the Colonel in the Independent fold by offering him the nomination for an office. In this connection we may state that the name of WM. H. WORKMAN which was mentioned as a candidate for office in the BIERLEY convention was used without his knowledge or consent.

Matters of Record.

No well informed resident of this State will deny that it was from Governor HAIGHT that the railroad company received their first real defeat. All know that from the laying of the first rail up to the session of the Legislature in 1869-70, every donation and subscription asked for by the railroad company was obtained almost for the asking. The first two subsidy bills introduced in the Legislature which failed to become laws were those which HAIGHT'S veto and a Democratic minority in the Senate defeated during that session. Had those bills found a place on our statute books and the railroad company enforced their conditions, the counties of Tulare, Fresno, Merced, Stanislaus, San Luis Obispo and Monterey would have incurred liabilities that they never could have discharged. Kern county alone, with a tax list of $1,191,895, of which only $431,518 was real estate, would have assumed a debt of $480,000—more than the assessed valuation of her entire real estate. The proportionate debt of the other counties named would have been something less, but far too heavy to be borne. Now then, who saved these counties from a load of taxation which, in time, would have depopulated them and left them the property of the parties holding their bonds? In his veto message, HAIGHT explained the injustice which the passage of this bill would work on the counties therein named. In the Senate on the question: Shall the bill become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, the vote was as follows: No—BURNETT, CONN, FOWLER, HAYES, HUNTER, IRWIN, LARKIN, LEWIS, MANDEVILLE, MINIS, O'CONNOR, PENDEGAST, PERKINS and WARD. A solid Democratic vote. Among the names recorded who voted to pass the bills over the veto, we find that of R. PACHECO, Independent candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and J. J. GREEN, the Republican nominee for State Controller. These are facts—a part of the written history of the State—and with them before the Bulletin and other Independent journals, it seems unreasonable and inconsistent that they should fill their columns with charges that IRWIN is a railroad man and PACHECO a gentleman who never has and never will bow to the dictation of a railroad corporation. The Independent party has but one principle, and that is a professed hatred of corporations; yet it is now supporting for Lieutenant-Governor a gentleman who, while in the Senate, never cast a vote against the will and wishes of the great Independent bugbear—the Central Pacific Railroad Company.

The Rights of Citizens.

In his opposition to the application of Mr. POTTS for permission from the Council to convey water on his own land, Mayor BEAUDRY adopts what appears to us to be a line of policy in direct opposition to that which he has advocated prior to the inception of the enterprise which Mr. POTTS now desires the consent of the Council to carry into effect. It will be remembered that Mr. BEAUDRY obtained from the city government a privilege exactly similar in nature and purpose to that which he is now exercising his influence to prevent Mr. POTTS obtaining. By the use of this privilege and the expenditure of a sum of money, he increased from a mere nominal value to $500 per acre, a large area of land owned by himself. Now as between individual citizens we submit the proposition: By what condition of circumstances can the Council justify the act of granting one citizen a privilege and withholding it from another? If no right or contract was violated in granting Mr. BEAUDRY permission to erect water works within the corporate limits of this city, it follows that none are, or can be jeopardized by granting like permission to Mr. POTTS. The only real question which enters into the issue between these two gentlemen is one which Mr. BEAUDRY has not touched upon, but which the Council should have considered before granting him the privilege he obtained. The point is this: Certain rights and privileges have been granted by the city to other parties for and in consideration of stipulated services. What the Council should determine is, to what extent, if any, does the privilege granted to Mr. BEAUDRY or will that asked for by Mr. POTTS, affect the pledges of the city to those parties. If no pledge or contract on the part of the city was violated in granting the privilege now exercised by Mr. BEAUDRY, neither the one nor the other can be affected by granting a similar privilege to Mr. POTTS or to any other resident of this city who may apply for it. If on the other hand the guaranteed rights of those parties were jeopardized by the privilege secured by Mr. BEAUDRY the city is liable to the extent of the actual damage sustained and she will be also liable in equal proportion and extent, should she extend to Mr. POTTS a similar favor to that now enjoyed by Mr. BEAUDRY. This is the only question to be considered by the Council. The assumption of Mr. BEAUDRY that Mr. POTTS or any other citizen is not entitled to the same municipal privileges with himself is untenable and requires no consideration at our hands.

Death of Ex-President Johnson.

Another of our national men has passed from earth. Ex-President ANDREW JOHNSON died yesterday morning at the residence of his daughter in Greenville, Tennessee. Several days ago he was stricken with paralysis and sunk rapidly until death relieved him of his suffering. Our dispatches from the Capitol say the news of his death is received with profound regret, and expressions of sympathy fall from every lip. A brief history of the man will be read with interest: ANDREW JOHNSON was born in Raleigh, North Carolina, December 29th, 1808. The straightened circumstances of his father prevented ANDREW from obtaining an education and at the age of ten years he was apprenticed to a tailor. Hearing extracts from the speeches of FOX and PITT so affected him that he resolved to learn to read. He carried out his resolve and then devoted his spare moments to reading such volumes as fell within his reach. He went to Tennessee when a young man and settled in Greenville where he married. His wife taught him to write and cipher. He went into politics in 1828 and was elected alderman. In 1835 he was elected to the State Legislature. This is the dawn of the political history of a man who finally reached the Presidential chair and died a United States Senator. He took his seat in the United States Senate in 1857. His record during the opening scenes of the rebellion is well known to all. He was inaugurated Vice President on the 4th of March 1865 and became President on the 14th of April following, after the assassination of LINCOLN. During his term of office the House attempted to impeach him but the resolution failed by a vote of yeas 126, nays 47; not voting 17. At the expiration of his term of office he retired to his home in Tennessee and one year ago he was elected to the United States Senate.

The Mormon Murders.

BEAVER, July 30th.—Elisha Hoopson's cross examination, opened with lively skirmish and words between witness and Baskin. The knife the doctor used was a dagger and had a cross guard. He would drive it clear to the hilt, the doctor then took the vital and poured something in the hole.

The witness contradicted himself several times and appealed to the Court frequently. The Court said witness was not being abused, plain questions only being asked. The cross examination proceeded at great length, witness making all sorts of statements as to details of the alleged poisoning of the ox and frequently changed his position.

Philo T. Farnsworth Sworn. Was Bishop in the Mormon church in 1857, so was John Smith, nor did I, that the emigrants were in the territory till we met them at Corn Creek. We camped near them, and next morning one of the emigrants asked us if we supposed the Indians would eat an ox that died in their camp. Our reply was yes probably; afterward saw a white man at the ox with Indians. Believe this was the same train which was massacred at Mountain Meadows. Duke's emigrant train came along by Beaver ten days after. Heard that the company had divided. They were attacked here in Beaver by Indians. The Court held that any acts or attacks on this party were not material and ruled the testimony out. Adjourned.

Many well informed persons express in decided terms their opinion that no consolidation will take place. It is known that certain stockholders of both companies would be glad to see an amalgamation or conjunction of both companies, as it would increase their returns from capital invested.

Attempted Outrage.

GREAT FALLS, N. H., July 31st.—An attempt was made on Thursday evening to throw the North Convoy express train off the track. Death of Andrew Johnson.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 31st.—The death of Andrew Johnson at 2:30 this morning is confirmed. He desired that his winding sheet should be the flag of his country.

Who Owns the Western Union Stock.

NEW YORK, July 31st.—The Tribune says that a member of the Western Union Telegraph Company's Executive Committee who is well acquainted with Commodore Vanderbilt, was questioned as to the truth of the report that Vanderbilt was ready to sell out his stock. He said that Vanderbilt is perfectly willing to part with any speculative stock, such as the Western Union, but he is intensely stubborn. The stock he holds cost him $6, and he will never sell it at a loss. If it can be got up to 90 he will sell out to Jay Gould or any one else who will give him his price; but the retirement of Vanderbilt from business would not necessarily involve the retirement of his friends. Vanderbilt has a large number of followers in all the enterprises into which he enters, and Messrs. Schellenger, Harker, Durkee and Thorne, who are all looked upon as his friends and had all been identified with the management of the company, do not believe they would sell out their stock, even if Vanderbilt should. There are $35,000,000 of Western Union stock in all. The Commodore holds $5,000,000 and his friends $11,000,000, making $16,000,000, enough to control the Board. If Gould desires control, he will have to buy the Vanderbilt clique which to-day owns more Western Union stock than does Vanderbilt. It is well known that Jay Gould owns $7,500,000 of the Union stock against $5,000,000 held by the Commodore. Should he buy out the interest of Vanderbilt, which the latter is quite willing to sell, the moment the stock rises above 80, Gould with his $12,500,000 will be very near controlling the Board. He will have to purchase it all himself however, for he cannot rely upon friends. He has no such followers as has the Commodore, but he makes up in cash what he lacks in support.

Oil Works Burned.

NEW YORK, July 31st.—At 9 o'clock this evening a fire broke out in Hyber's last-ill works at Hunter's Point and owing to the excessively inflammable matter of the stock the whole establishment is a total loss. The fire broke out in the pressing room, where no fire is kept. There is a suspicion that it was the work of an incendiary. The loss is $60,000 on buildings and machinery and $15,000 on stock; insurance, $40,000.

The Tribune says the sensational report about the pending absorption of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company by the Western Union Company gave a fresh excitement to Wall Street. Jay Gould is credited with this latest combination. He does not deny that such a plan is contemplated but says the details of an adjustment have not yet been reached.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 1, 1875.

Inland Canadian Money Order Office.

As Los Angeles has been designated as an Inland Canadian Money Order Office, the following facts may be of interest to such of our people as have any dealings with Canada:

The applicant for a money order must in all cases write his own given name and surname in full, and when the given name of the payee is known it should be stated, otherwise the initial letter of the given name may be used. The given names of married women must be stated, and not those of their husbands. For example, Mrs. Mary Brown must not be described as Mrs. William Brown. Names of parties and places and the sums, are to be written in the plainest manner. The Postmaster must refuse to issue an order payable to any person, if the surname and the initial letters of that person's given name are not furnished by the applicant, unless the payee be a peer or Bishop, in which case his ordinary title is sufficient. If the payee be a firm, the usual designation of such firm will suffice, such as "Banning Bros.," "Smith & Co.," "Jones & Co.," but the mere term Messrs., or the name of a company trading under a title which does not consist of the names of the persons composing such company, as, for example, "The Carro Company," must not be accepted as sufficient by the issuing Postmaster, who will decline to issue an order on the Dominion of Canada to such payee, as payment thereof would be refused there.

The following rates of commission, in U. S. currency, will be charged for issuing international money orders to be transmitted by exchange postmasters to the Dominion of Canada.

On orders not exceeding $10.....	20
Over $10 and not exceeding $20.....	40
Over $20 and not exceeding $50.....	60
Over $50 and not exceeding $100.....	80
Over $100 and not exceeding $500.....	1 00
Over $500 and not exceeding $1000.....	1 50

No order can be issued for a larger amount than $50 in currency. No fractions of cents to be introduced in an order. United States Treasury notes or National Bank notes only received and paid.

Santa Barbara Items.

[From the Press 29th Inst.]

We have to thank Mr. Shepard of Monticito, for some of the largest blackberries we ever saw. Thirteen of them weighed a quarter of a pound down weight, and thirty-two a full half pound. We measured the largest half dozen and found they averaged one inch and three-eighths in length and a full inch in diameter. These are the last of the Early Wilson which begin to bear about July 1st; but Mr. Shepard informs us that he is picking eighty boxes a week of the Lawton variety. Mr. Shepard's place is on the foot of the mountain just above Colonel Dismore's house. Next year Mr. Shepard will have half an acre of the vines of this enormously large blackberry.

The question of title to the Big Grape Vine was settled yesterday, and the property now belongs to Michael Sarver, Esq., with no adverse claimants.
